Stevens, Esq., of New-York, in trust for the Bondholders. They are convertible into the stock of the Company, at the option of the holders. They are issued under acts of the Legislature of Ohio, authorising them, and the mortgage as above to secure the payment thereof. The amount of Bonds to be thus issued under the Mortgage is limited to $300,000, of which $100,000 have been disposed of. Only $230,000 are now affered for sale. The residue will be disposed of as the wants of the Company, hereafter, from time to time, may make it neces-

The mortgage covers the whole Road of the Cor embraces the entire line, from its connection with the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railway, at or near Galion, where the Cleveland and Columbus Railroad crosses the same, through Marion, Bellefontaine, Sidney, and other important towns, to Union, on the line dividing the States of Ohio and Indiana, where it connects with the Indianapolis and Bellefontaine Ballroad, now nearly completed. The entire line of 118 miles is under contract for graduation and masonry, and about 54 miles of ft are now nearly ready for the iron rails. A portion of the rails are purchased, and in the course of arrival. The Indianapolis and Bellefontaine Road is completed, and in operation from Indianapolis to a point near the Ohio A Company has been organized to make the remaining-

It will be seen that this is the nearest, most natural and direct route from New-York and Philadelphia to St. Louis traversing perhaps the most fertile, populous and improved pertions of the States through which the line passes. From the nature of the country, the construction of a

The BONDS above-named constitute the only debt of the Company. That this road will prove one of great useful-ness and profit admits of but little doubt. Its local business alone will yield it a handsome support. But, connected as it is Zest and West, it will be one of the greatest channels of through travel in the United States.
